CHRISTMAS MAIL MUST BE ON WAY BY DEC. 10

Local Postmaster Explains Urgency

Maybe you don't care if your relatives and friends back east, up north, or down south, don't get their Christmas packages until February. . .

Oh, you don't like such a suggestion a bit! Well, then, what have you done about mailing early this year?

Here's how it is, plain as the nose on Durante's face, as sure as rationing, as inevitable as tire inspection, as certain as higher taxes, and as inexorable as the housing shortage—Daly City residents either mail their Christmas gifts not later than December 10 or they can't expect them to arrive at their destination by the Yuletide.

Herbert Guptill, local postmaster, pointed out that the post office is short of help and is carrying a tremendous wartime load. In addition San Francisco is the center for tons of mail going overseas; rail facilities are overtaxed already. The only possible way to get your packages there by Christmas and to cooperate with the postal department is to mail NOW. That December 10 deadline doesn't mean "wait until December 10" either. The sooner the better really applies this year as never before, Guptill urged in asking cooperation.

Daly City's post office is located at 6251 Mission street and hours are 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Friday and 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. Saturday.

How About A Gift For Servicemen?

How about playing Santa Claus to servicemen stationed in the Daly City area? All you have to do is wrap one or more presents in gay holiday paper and leave at the Daly City Police department, main floor, city hall, 75 Wellington avenue. From there the presents will be collected and arranged under the Christmas tree at the Daly City Servicemen's club, 6201 Mission street, for distribution on Christmas eve.

Your contribution to holiday cheer for the boys need not be expensive; it can be a festive novelty or some utility item. Cigarettes, toilet articles, billfolds, razor blades, books, writing paper are just a few suggestions.

To help in the campaign to secure gifts for this purpose the Daly City Water department is including a reminder with the regular water bills being mailed out this week. It is suggested that a good time to bring presents to the police department would be when payment of the water bill is made.

Indians Of Rhythm Play For Center Social

More than two hundred servicemen enjoyed the social, Saturday night, November 27, at the Daly City Servicemen's club, 6201 Mission street. Hostess organization for the week had been Crocker P T. A. and Saturday night's event was the climax to their period at the club. The Indians of Rhythm from Jefferson Union high school played; several vocalists were featured. Mrs. Margaret Holzworth was in charge for Crocker unit. She expressed her appreciation to the high school group.

Currently handling hostess duties at the club are members of El Carmelo Parlor No. 181, Native Daughters of the Golden West. For the week beginning Sunday, December 5, General Pershing P. T. A. will take over.

Councilman Edward Cavagnaro recently donated to the club, and for Thanksgiving Goodness! Laura Lee Candies supplied candy and nuts for the servicemen.

CITY COURT

Due to the fact that Herbert Gilliam, one of the four men involved in a bloody street fight here, November 21, was still in the hospital, the case against him and Edvar Tate was postponed by the Daly City court, Friday, November 26. At the same session, Judge William J. Sweeney fined Ernest Ruiz and Perdew Marlow each $25 for their part in another street brawl which occurred in the neighborhood of

Ask Draft Board For 42, December 10

Daly City Draft Board No. 103 has received a request from the armed forces for 42 men from this area for induction, December 10. Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, chief clerk, reports that the local board will not have sufficient men to meet this large call, unless there are last-minute volunteers to augment the supply.

On November 26, sixteen men were inducted by the local board. None of them were Daly City boys.

The local headquarters at the city hall is now busy reclassifying all Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. Mrs. Flynn explained that all fathers will be taken out of the 3-A classification and assigned new status depending upon their occupation. At the same time she urged all employers who have not previously done so to file occupational deferment forms 42-A for Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers in their employ who are considered essential.

War Council Will Meet This Evening

All members of Daly City's Civilian War Council are urged to be present at tonight's meeting in the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue. Director Arthur J. Bodien explained that due to the holidays a large amount of correspondence and urgent matters had accumulated pending action of the council.

Under discussion at the 8 o'clock session will be a recent request for the local council to reregister with the federal government and to officially rename the organization, "Daly City Civilian

STATEMENTS IN MAIL ON 1943 INCOME TAX

Jefferson Students In Municipal Chorus

On Pearl Harbor Day, December 7, at 8:30 p. m. in the Civic auditorium of San Francisco, the San Francisco Municipal chorus, under the direction of Dr. Hans Leschke, will sing Brahms' "Requiem Mass." The San Francisco Symphony orchestra will accompany the chorus.

The following students from Jefferson Union high school are members of the chorus: Lillian Altman, Kenneth Bradshaw, Kenneth Hatt, Virginia Nestor, Robert Olson, Phoebe Remington, Vivian Thorsen.

The following graduates are also members: Lowell Coy, Betty Jeanne Olinger, Fred Waterman.

The program is free to the public; however, tickets for reserved seats must be obtained beforehand at Sherman Clay and company. There will also be general admission seats for which tickets will not be necessary, according to Oscar Busch, high school music instructor.

CONSTRUCT SUMP

Forms are ready to be poured for the sump being constructed for the Daly City Fire department at Citrus avenue and Niantic street, near the pump house. It will probably be ready for use in another month.

Purpose of building the sump is to facilitate teaching local firemen how to draught. It will provide a handy setup for practice drills.

Deputy Collectors To Help Taxpayers

Daly City residents who still have an installment to pay on their 1943 incomes are this week receiving statements from the Collector of Internal Revenue. These are to be filed by December 15. Under the pay-as-you-go law, farmers were not required to make their returns until December 15 but must now take care of the matter.

Taxpayers who filed returns on September 15 of their estimated total income will be permitted to file revised declarations before December 15 if their first guess was in error. If the taxpayer underestimates his income by 20 per cent or more he is subject to penalty. For this reason it is permissible to file the amended return between now and the middle of the month.

For the convenience of local taxpayers, deputy collectors of Internal Revenue will be stationed at the Colma branch, Bank of America, San Pedro road near Mission street, today and tomorrow, December 2 and 3, and at the Daly City branch, Bank of America, San Jose avenue and Mission street, December 13 and 14. They will gladly assist taxpayers who are required to file income tax declarations. Hours at the local banks are 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

John Ferrari, manager of the Colma branch, pointed out farmers are especially reminded to note their obligation to file returns by December 15.

ABOUT LOCAL SERVICEMEN

Frank Silvestri, Daly City private with the U. S. Army, is now stationed at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana. He writes to say he enjoys The Record and that his outfit has just returned from maneuvers. He hopes to be home for Christmas or New Year's.

Completing four hard months of study, Private First Class Warren Francis McHugh was graduated at Norman, Oklahoma, from the U. S. Marine Corps ordnance school, November 20. He is now taking six weeks' additional training there in preparation for his role as an aerial gunner.

McHugh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McHugh, 774 Bellevue avenue, is a graduate of Jefferson Union high school. He took his elementary schooling at General Pershing and Crocker schools. In July he was back to Daly City on furlough.

McHugh writes his folks that he certainly misses Daly City water; that any resemblance between drinking water in Oklahoma and the hometown variety is, unfortunately, imaginary.

Thomas Loomis, Daly City man now with the Merchant Marine, recently wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Loomis, 3312 San Jose avenue, from somewhere in Australia, telling of his experiences since he joined up two months ago. He is graduate of Jefferson Union high school.

Sergeant Jack Smith, one of the first of Daly City's men to see actual combat against the enemy, addressed the student body of Jefferson Union high school at an assembly program, Wednesday, November 17.

Among the many interesting things he had to tell the students were: "India is not really mysterious," "the British are conservative, quiet and more settled in their ways," "I never appreciated the U. S. until I travelled all over the world," "a gunner aims ahead of a plane, not at it."

Smith, the son of Mrs. Mary Petiti, 474 Bellevue avenue, has experienced a grim war-time itinerary from the South Pacific to Egypt and back again. He has won two medals for heroism.

Intent upon mastering the mysteries of operating a radio set from rumbling, rolling tanks and half-tracks, a new class of enlisted men reported, last week, to the Armored School Communication department at Fort Knox, Kentucky, upon orders of Major General Alvan C. Gillem jr. Among the soldier students was Corporal Charles F. Lewis, son of Mrs. Vernie Clyburn, Daly City.

The school trains the thousands of officers and enlisted technicians for the divisions and separate tank battalions that make up the mobile, powerful Armored Command.

Twenty-five friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stone Lantz, 563 Hanover street, to honor Stone Lantz jr. with a surprise farewell party, November 11. They presented him with a leather toilet set.

Lantz, a June '43 graduate of Jefferson Union high school, left Friday, November 12, for Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Virginia, for training with the Navy's Seabees.

Police Investigate Three Thefts Here

November 25 and 26 saw three thefts brought to the attention of local police.

On November 25 at 2:40 a. m. Mrs. Irene Templin, 527 Templeton avenue, reports that she was stopped by a man who seized her purse and ran. She was walking east on Templeton between Brunswick and Winchester at the time of the incident. She described the man as young, of slender build. She could not see his features as he had his overcoat collar pulled around his face.

On November 26 at 11:15 a. m. Ernest Lewis, 358 Hillside boulevard, returned to where he had parked his Nash sedan, in front of 128 Flournoy street, to find that someone had entered the car and taken his A and B gas books, tire inspection slip, two flashlights, and two packages of cigarettes.

Fred Horning, 570 Hanover street, contacted officers at 6:05 p. m., November 26, to report that the evening before someone had stolen a mother and five baby rabbits from his backyard.

"We Are Buying War Bonds—Are You?"

Part of Sgt. Edward Straube's left foot was shot away at Ferryville, near Bizerte, North Africa. At Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island, N. Y., they are building up his foot again. Sgt. Straube, from Perth Amboy, N. J., buys War Bonds regularly.

Sgt. Bernard Rello, 22, of New York, was wounded by snipers during the Sicilian campaign. His grandparents live in Naples, and he has a brother in the army. Both buy War Bonds regularly. Do you do as much?

Technician 5th Grade John A. Wisniewski, 25, of Door, Mich., lost his right eye, three fingers and suffered chest wounds from shrapnel in the fight to capture Tunis. He is now recovering at Halloran and is a regular War Bond purchaser.

Pvt. Bernard Heidemann's left leg will be two inches shorter when he is discharged from Halloran. He was wounded by a German bullet during the operations in Sicily last August. His home is Chicago. He has been in traction since Sept. He's buying bonds.

The nickname of Pvt. Milton Lieberman, 27, of Brooklyn, is "Clark Gable." He was wounded in Sicily last August and has been at Halloran since October. Every payday $12.50 is taken out for War Bonds Lieberman is buying. How many do you buy?

Daly City Theatre Has Army Hit Film

Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army," which successfully stormed city after city in its original stage version, is now at the Daly City theatre in its Warner Brothers' Technicolor production. The picture is proving a happy invasion of the hearts of America by its stalwart and talented sons in the service.

The Warner Brothers production for Army Emergency Relief uses all three hundred and fifty of the original cast plus heavyweight champion Sergeant Joe Louis. In putting the great show on film, the studio was careful not to alter but to augment it. Thus a large cast of motion picture and radio stars was added as were some old and new Irving Berlin songs.

Hollywood is richly represented by, among others, George Murphy, Joan Leslie, Lieutenant Ronald Reagan, George Tobias, Alan Hale, Charles Butterworth and Una Merkel.

Radio's great star, Kate Smith, sings the beloved hymn, "God Bless America," which she introduced to the nation over the air waves. Frances Langford puts over the new Berlin number "What Does He Look Like" while Gertrude Niesen sings some of the composer's World War I tunes.

A screen story was built around the show, linking together the generations of the two world wars and giving the production a plot interest which the stage version lacked.

Based upon a screen play by Casey Robinson and Captain Claude Binyon, Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army" was directed by Michael Curtiz who directed "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Casablanca," "Mission to Moscow" and other outstanding motion pictures.

OPA Thanks Press, Teachers For Work

A total of 11,445,476 residents of Arizona, California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and the panhandle of Idaho received War Ration Book Four at school house registration sites in October, it was announced today by Leo F. Gentner, regional administrator of the Office of Price Administration.

In releasing the compilation of War Ration Book Four distribution in the Western states of the eighth OPA region, Gentner paid tribute to the cooperation of the press and to the school teachers who handled the registration as volunteers.

"We never could have handled the job of distributing more than 11 million ration books within so short a time without the assistance of our school teachers," Gentner declared. "The Pacific Coast press and radio helped immeasurably in preparing the public for registration so that this sign-up for ration books was the smoothest in our entire region's history."

Basketball Teams Close Season

Lightweight basketball teams at Jefferson Union high school, under the direction of Coach Elman Rose, closed their season by splitting a doubleheader, Wednesday, November 24, against San Mateo.

Indian 120s lost a close game, 27 to 34, to wind up in third place behind San Mateo and South San Francisco, who were tied for league lead. Their season record shows five wins and two defeats.

The 110s beat San Mateo, 34 to 13, but ended in fourth place with four wins and three defeats. For the season, their total points scored was almost twice that of their opponents', but the crucial games were lost by narrow margins.

Varsity and 130 basketball squads will have practice games with St. Ignatius high school teams tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, at the local gymnasium, starting at 3:15 o'clock. League contests for these squads will start about the first week in January.

The night league is in its second week, with tonight's feature game between the 140th Radio Intelligence and the Heights of San Francisco.

NOW AT DALY CITY THEATRE

Sergeant James Burrell sings one of the hit numbers from Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army," "I'm Getting Tired So I Can Sleep." Scene from the Warner Brothers picture now at the Daly City.

Navy Still Seeks Qualified Men

Captain C. L. Arnold, director of Naval Officer Procurement for the Twelfth Naval district, announced today that the Navy is still seeking qualified men for service as commissioned officers with the United States Naval Reserve.

"The greatest need in commissioned grades at this time," states Captain Arnold, "is for mechanical, electrical, civil and radio engineers and for men with other types of engineering experience adaptable to repair work." The Navy also announced an immediate need for qualified men for service as officers of the Supply corps and for ordained clergymen to serve with the Chaplain corps.

Twelfth Naval District Officer Procurement offices are located at: 703 Market street, San Francisco; Federal building, Salt Lake City; and City and County building, Denver, Colorado.

A War Manpower Commission certificate of availability is required for those now engaged or employed in essential war work.

WAR CHEST DRIVE

Daly City's War Chest drive came to an official close, yesterday, December 1. Final total achieved in the campaign will be announced, next week. Little likelihood that Daly City would reach its quota was seen.

To those who gave generously and to the volunteer workers who made possible a house-to-house canvass here, Mrs. Marce Trier, district chairman, expressed her appreciation:

"There had never been a worthier project before us than the California War Chest campaign through which funds were raised in nearly one thousand communities of the state to support the fine services to our fighting men, the praiseworthy activities of the United Nations relief organizations, and the much-needed aids extended by local welfare agencies."

Local Police Find Lost Children

Three San Francisco youngsters, all under 6 years of age, were found wandering here by Daly City police, in the past few days, and returned to their homes.

On November 25, a day when one might assume kiddies would be unwilling to stir from home, Jerry Cook, 5, and Sharan Stahnke, 4, were found, late in the afternoon, by Officer August Benassini, sitting alongside a vacant lot 200 feet south of Market street on Mission street. At 7:20 they were turned over to their parents. Both youngsters live in Bayshore City.

On Monday, November 29, at 4:15 p. m. Alta Daniels, a little miss of 4 years, 149 College avenue, San Francisco, was picked up at Carr's Service station by Policemen Henry Sundermann jr. and George Savage. They turned the little girl over to the San Francisco police who were already looking for the lost child.

OPA Pleads For Care Of War Ration Books

Christmas shoppers were given this advice, today, by Paul Nederman, rationing chief of the San Francisco district Office of Price Administration: take special care of ration books during the holiday buying.

Many ration books are lost by women shoppers who remove the books from their purses and carelessly leave them on store counters, Nederman reported.

"A shopper should preserve her ration books even more carefully than money," Nederman pointed out. "If you lose a $10 bill, another can be earned, but if you lose your ration book, it is impossible to obtain another without delay except in extreme emergency," he said.

War price and rationing boards must be strict in their issuance of lost ration books, Nederman explained. A waiting period, sometimes as long as 60 days, is necessary for investigation, and the lost book also must be reported to the police department.

Give Thanksgiving Party For "Boys"

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Miller jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Menzie gave a Thanksgiving party for boys of the Army and Navy at 279 Irvington street. Buffet luncheon was served at noon and games were played during the afternoon.

When all the guests had arrived, Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings was served. The boys enjoyed the antics of Mickey and Minnie Mouse and their pals on the home movie screen. Scenes were also shown of skating and sleighing in the snow country formerly visited by Miller. The evening was devoted to games.

The following were present and the list reveals many states of the union represented: Smiley Blaine, California; George F. L. Hunt, Idaho; Corporal John W. Stuart, Texas; Harold Eugene Schultz, seaman second class, Wisconsin; James Joseph De Nardo, seaman second class, Pennsylvania; Benton Murel Davis, seaman first class, Washington; Johnny C. Thomas, seaman second class, Tennessee; James Henry Goodman, seaman second class, Georgia; Robert Henry Menzie, Indiana; Beth Menzie, Illinois; Lucille Miller, Montana; H. R. Miller jr., Canada; Shirley, Eleanor, and Betty Miller, California.

Boy Scout Troop Gives Clock To Church

At the tenderfoot investiture services of Boy Scout Troop No. 141, Wednesday evening, November 24, the troop presented Grace Church of the Nazarene with a clock for the auditorium.

Last weekend, Scoutmaster Joseph Straughan, and Quartermaster Jacob Hummel attended the Green Bar conference at Camp Lilienthal. Straughan taught camp cooking during the meeting. He ground whole-wheat flour to demonstrate the use of the grist mill to the other youth leaders in attendance.

Give him a crisp WAR BOND for a CHRISTMAS present to be remembered. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

OPA EXPLAINS SUGAR RATIONING SITUATION

No immediate relaxation of the sugar rationing regulation is in prospect, the San Francisco district Office of Price Administration food rationing officials advised local war price and rationing boards today.

Whether the nation's available sugar supply will balance sufficiently the civilian demands plus military and lend-lease needs is contingent upon shipments from the Caribbean, it was pointed out by Charles Williams, district food rationing chief, in a report to local boards.

The amount of the Caribbean shipments will depend upon the demands on shipping of other commodities which compete with sugar for space—mainly such essential war materials as bauxite, chrome and manganese—and also upon the war developments which have a bearing upon the number of ships available for sugar shipments.

Williams also pointed out that some of the Caribbean sugar is needed for shipment to other Allied Nations and some will be required in the form of invert molasses for industrial alcohol production.

Bethel 68 Changes Meeting Place

Due to transportation difficulties and curfew regulations, Bethel No. 68, Q. J. D., has moved its meeting place from Daly City Masonic temple to the Methodist church at San Bruno. Mrs. Irene McMills, acting guardian, explained that the majority of the girls now participating in the bethel live at South San Francisco and San Bruno.

The first and third Friday nights of the month will continue to be the meeting time of the organization.

SINCE PEARL HARBOR

A great deal of history has flowed under the bridge of time since that quiet sabbath morning two years ago when a Jap-created Hell suddenly fell from the heavens and marked December 7, 1941, as the "Day of Infamy."

"Since Pearl Harbor" has become an expression denoting a profound change in our way of life, for in the flames that leaped up from the stricken ships and barracks, the ease and apathy of the "old order" were consumed and from their ashes arose a new spirit of determination and of devotion to the cause of world freedom.

The bursting bombs that were heard 'round the globe shattered our dream of smug security. We awoke to stark, startling realities. We discovered that we lived not merely on a continent but in a world. We found that our forefathers had not bought liberty for us with their blood. Rather, we learned that they had but made a down payment and that each generation must maintain the installments. Ours was long overdue.

The shock cleared our heads. We swung into the task that lay before us. Almost overnight we rebuilt industrial America and geared it to the tempo of war. We marshalled our manpower and sent our troops to fight all over the world. We "cleared the decks" at home—scoured the attic, garage and backyard for iron, rubber and tin. We dug into our pockets for billions of dollars to finance the fight.

We shall not forget Pearl Harbor. But today we are not spending our time "remembering" it. Our every thought, our every bit of energy must be devoted to the gigantic job yet to be done. But when it is done—as it surely will be—we shall write across the black page of December 7, 1941, this inscription, "Paid in Full."

FOURTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

Number four—coming up!

The Fourth War Loan drive, aimed at $14 billion has just been announced by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau. It is scheduled from January 18 to February 15, 1944—less than sixty days away.

Especial emphasis is put on the $5½ billion quota assigned to individual purchasers—half a billion above the amount set in the last bond drive.

Better save some of that Christmas money so that you will be well fortified to do your share in financial round four. The purchase of War Bonds by wage and salary earners is a potent weapon for "shooting down" the inflation balloons that are hanging over us. This follows logically since tremendous purchasing power lies in the pockets of the great mass of people with incomes under $5,000.

The fact that California's largest branch banking institution sold nearly twice as many War Bonds to small investors in October than in September indicates that the Third War Loan served to more thoroughly awaken the average man to the need of greater financial support of the war effort.

Remember—buying bonds is only half the story—holding onto them is the other half. And we need the whole story! Nothing less will win.

Our Secret Weapon

"Not so long ago the infantryman was the forgotten man in any military discussion. He had done all right with Julius Caesar. He had carved an empire for Napoleon and overthrown it. He had gained us our independence. In the sweat and blood of France in the first World War he had held the line, thrust back the German hordes and finally broken them. . . . Only history remembered the infantryman and only the sober observer saw that history did not suddenly bury its experiences and lose the value of its lessons.

"Only now do we begin to see that our 'secret weapon' of this war is the infantry—the weapon about which we have talked the least and on which we depend the most—the same old dependable mud slogging, jungle hunting, mountain climbing infantry which closes with the enemy, meets him in hand to hand conflict, kills him or drives him backward and seizes the ground which the airplane and the warship and the production plants at home may have enabled the doughboy to reach but which only he can take and hold. . . . Perhaps it is a mistake to say merely that our 'secret weapon' is the infantry. Rather it is the product of the training, the spirit, the teamwork and the individuality which goes into the making of our infantry."

—Stephen T. Early, Secretary to the President.

"Don't forget the foot fighter's days and nights in the mud and cold, the endurance he has exhibited. In both Britain and the United States the greatest proportion of our fighting men comes into the ground forces, and I don't think any of us belittles their service. . . . Every citizen of the United Nations has a right to know how important to our victories are the fighting spirit, the sense of duty and the gallantry and fortitude of our ground forces. The accomplishments of this indispensable member of the air-ground-naval team will, when the story is fully told, fill many of the brighest pages of our war history."

—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Commander-in-Chief North Africa Theater of Operations.

"I love the infantry because they are the underdogs. They are the mud-rain-frost-and-wind boys. They have no comforts, and they even learn to live without the necessities. And in the end they are the guys that wars can't be won without."

—Ernie Pyle, Newspaper Correspondent

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

IN 1876 the city of Philadelphia celebrated its one-hundredth anniversary and was for one summer the scene of gaiety and excitement almost unsurpassed in its quiet conservative history. Against this background Albert E. Idell has written his popular novel titled "Centennial Summer."

ALBERT E. IDELL

This is the story of the Rogers family: the father, a railroad man, even more opinionated and difficult than the father of Clarence Day's "Life With Father"; the mother, a daughter of an Italian nobleman; the two boisterous twins, Georgina and Henry; and the two older sisters, the beautiful and petulant Zenia and Julia, the most quiet and gentle member of the family.

These, plus glamorous Aunt Zena who lives in Paris, and her handsome dashing nephew Philippe, make up the cast of characters in Mr. Idell's hilarious story. "Centennial Summer" should make an excellent movie and in fact has already been bought by Twentieth Century-Fox for production sometime next year.

Jesse Stuart, the Kentucky author whose "Taps For Private Tussie" is the December book-of-the-month, was asked recently what he intended to do with "all that money" he was going to get from the Book-of-the-Month Club. He confessed that he hoped to save it. "I've been hungry many a time," he said, "and people who have been hungry, just don't like to see money wasted." "Don't you even want to go out and buy a lot of new clothes?" his questioner insisted. He just looked embarrassed at that and his wife explained that Jesse had the reputation of being the worst dressed man in Kentucky. It takes her years to get him to buy a new suit and when she succeeds, likely as not, he just puts it aside and goes right on wearing overalls. Once when he was lecturing, he did buy a dress suit, because the lecture bureau said he had to. That was two years back, and the suit hasn't once been out of mothballs.

Nancy Wilson Ross, in her book "The Waves" gives credit to Josephus Daniels for the first infiltration of women into the ranks of the Navy. It was he who, in the critical spring of 1917, when the Navy was desperately in need of extra clerical assistance at shore stations, asked, "Is there any law that says a yeoman must be a man?" The Navy records were searched and no such law was found. Thus the way was open for the hiring of women, which Secretary Daniels at once proceeded to do.

SCHOOLS WILL AID MINT

Superintendent R. L. Crane jr., has pledged his cooperation and that of the Jefferson Elementary School district to the campaign now being launched by Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the Mint, to get small coins back into circulation.

The letter from the director of the Mint to Crane is self-explanatory:

"You will recall that about a year ago an appeal was made to you, and to other educators over the country, to assist the Mint in its effort to induce the public to return to circulation small coins lying idle in receptacles in the homes. The purpose, as explained, was to reduce the requirements of the Mint for the strategic metals consumed in minor coins.

"The magnitude of the response to that appeal was most gratifying. The supplemental supply of coins provided thereby relieved a shortage that had become serious by reason of the abnormal demand occasioned by the war, added to the usual heavy pre-Christmas orders.

"The superb cooperation of teachers and pupils was evidenced in reports and letters from all sections. While expressing my personal appreciation and that of the Treasury Department for the aid you rendered, I write to say that an even heavier demand for small coins, especially the one-cent piece, has materialized this year. Although the Mints have produced nearly three billion pennies during the past three years, this supply, added to pieces already in circulation, is insufficient to meet the unprecedented requirements of our war-time economy.

"In view of the fact that the metals expended in such quantity for minor coinage are essential to the manufacture of guns, cartridges, planes, ships and the like, the economical use of these metals is a vital war-time necessity. Into the three billion coins above-mentioned, there went 10,000 tons of strategic metals.

"Therefore, I again ask the favor of your assistance in the launching of another nation-wide drive to get idle coins back into circulation. The schools and colleges offer an excellent medium through which to reach young people and their families at home.

"The simple message that small coins should not be hoarded, but used, as a patriotic act, just as larger coins and currency are used in the market place, should bring back a vast amount into circulation. Where coins are accumulated as a measure of thrift, it is suggested that War Savings Stamps be substituted. If you will see that the enclosed letter is read to the students under you and will otherwise give your moral support to the project outlined, you will undoubtedly contribute much to its success."

PREPARING FOR ARMY LIFE—Numerous Army jobs require that the soldier have some background in the theory and application of electricity. These high-school boys work with storage batteries in a pre-induction training course, thus acquiring fundamental information which will enable the Army to reduce the time needed for their post-induction training.

STUDENTS BUILD GLIDER—Prior to induction for occupational specialties in the Armed Forces these boys in a Philadelphia vocational school put the finishing touches on a glider frame. Pre-induction training is being offered in schools throughout the nation in an effort to equip prospective inductees to meet Army needs for occupational specialists. The courses include auto mechanics, machine shop practice, aircraft maintenance, and electrical signal communication.

At Jeff High

By Verna Moresco

The stamps and bonds committee presented another assembly this week featuring a Pete Smith specialty, "Football Grid Rules," and a technicolor and sound film "Little Black Sambo." The purpose of this assembly was to raise the percentage for the month of November in order to get the Treasury flag.

All students and outsiders are reminded again about December 7th Week at Jefferson. One day of the week will be set aside for each branch of the service. So, if you have any extra money lying around be sure to invest it in bonds and stamps at Jefferson next week—or anytime.

THOSE INDIANS

The Indians of Rhythm performed for the entertainment of the soldiers at the Daly City Servicemen's club, Saturday evening, November 27. The program started at 8:30 and lasted until 11.

Several of the vocalists sang, including Lillian Altman, Marie Nunes, and La Verne LeDesma.

All present had a very good time dancing to the solid rhythm of the band.

ABOUT SCHOOL

Monday was a memorable day at school. There were very few smiles at the end of the day. Reason? REPORT CARDS!

The winner of the paper drive was announced but it wasn't Jefferson. Some school back east with a total enrollment of twelve students had brought in approximately 2200 pounds apiece. Jeff still didn't do so badly—eleven tons.

The students are at least pleased with the tie of 6-6 in the annual grid classic with South City.

Accept Bid Of Local Construction Firm To Build Sand Separating Tank For City

Superintendent Arthur J. Bodien has accepted the bid of Balboa Construction company, upon authorization of the city council, to build a sand separating tank for the Daly City Water department at the Citrus Avenue Pump house.

During the past few months the department has been troubled with sand getting into the water and the system, clogging meters and causing much inconvenience. It is expected that the installation of the tank will do much to eliminate the entire problem.

Report On Action Taken In OPA's Enforcement Field

The Office of Price Administration took vigorous action in the enforcement field, last week, in its campaign to keep prices to consumers at reasonable levels, it was disclosed, today, by Monsignor Egisto Tozzi, chairman of the War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3, which serves the Daly City area.

The OPA struck at profiteering at the expense of servicemen in the Bay area by filing injunction suits against forty tailoring establishments in San Francisco and Oakland. The United States District court was asked to restrain the establishments from selling ready-made and tailor-made navy uniforms to enlisted personnel over OPA ceiling prices. The stores were accused of collecting over-charges ranging up to $17.50 per uniform.

Treble damages of $94,913.20 also were sought by the OPA in a suit filed in the United States District court against a Los Angeles sugar dealer for violation of ceiling prices.

In addition, Federal Judge Michael J. Roche cleared the way for a speedy trial of the $126,849.60 treble damage suit filed by the OPA against Edwin M. Petersen, Watsonville, California, wholesale butcher.

Judge Roche denied Petersen's request for a stay of trial. The Watsonville meat wholesaler is charged with violating OPA maximum price ceilings.

Five San Francisco meat markets also had their right to sell rationed meats and fats suspended for periods ranging from 10 to 15 days on charges of violating OPA ceiling prices.

In Seattle, an apartment house owner was indicted for collecting $50 bonuses over legal rentals, while hotel operators posted $3,000 bail on charges of collecting double the legal rent on single and double rooms. Among the victims of the rent gougers, the OPA said, were disabled servicemen.

In Portland, vigorous action by the OPA rolled back pie prices from 15 cents to 10 cents, while four gasoline stations were penalized for violating rationing regulations. Twenty-eight Oregon motorists also lost some rations for speeding.

Meanwhile, the OPA moved on a national level to stimulate the kitchen fats salvage campaign by authorizing retail meat dealers and other fats salvagers to give two points a pound for fats returned by housewives and others. Effective date of this plan was set for December 13.

COFFEE BY THE BARREL—While American troops swarmed across Kiska, in the Aleutians looking for Japanese, Mat Howard, American Red Cross Field Director, made hot coffee by the barrel for the rain and wind-chilled servicemen. Here he's ladling it out. Red Cross is with troops at almost every outpost.

Announce Annual Christmas Party

Mrs. Anne Eason and Mrs. Maisie Boyle, representing the Daly City Recreation committee, announce that the annual Christmas party will be held for Daly City children. Details and date are to be announced later. In past years the event has featured a theatre party.

Jefferson Union high school is also preparing for the Yuletide. A Nativity play, open to the public, will be presented, Thursday, December 16, in the auditorium. Christmas carols will be sung by the high school chorus under the direction of Oscar Busch. Name of the play, to be presented under the direction of Roy J. Gale, is "There Was No Room At the Inn." The program begins at 8 o'clock.

The high school students will leave their classes, Friday, December 17, for two weeks vacation.

Jefferson Ties South City Thanksgiving Day

Climaxing the 1943 football season, Coach Marion Hall's Indians of Jefferson Union high school settled for a 6-6 tie in the annual game with the Warriors of South San Francisco, played in that city on Thanksgiving Day. Playing "over their heads" in the little-big game for the two schools, the Jeffs were knocking at the goal line for another score when the game ended.

The Daly City boys tallied first, when in the third quarter Picchi intercepted a South City pass and ran it to the 10-yard line. A pass, Nelson to Day, took the Indians into the scoring column, although the try for conversion point failed.

The Warriors' touchdown followed Jefferson interference with a pass near the goal line, and was scored with only seconds to play. Receiving the kickoff, the Indians returned the ball to about the 45-yard line, then passed on the first play, Nelson to Greenfield, who was run out of bounds on the 11 as the game ended.

Block letters for the football season were awarded at a school assembly, Tuesday, November 30, to all the above named, and also to Eugene Anderson, tackle; Ralph Davidson, guard; Bill Fisher, end; Ken Martin, tackle; Dick Little, guard; Harold Tikkenan, quarterback; Paul Underhill, end; Ray Falvey, center; Bob Evans, senior manager; and Jimmy Pederson and David Plyer, assistant managers.

Kenn Hatt, varsity center, was elected team captain for the year by members of the squad, Monday.

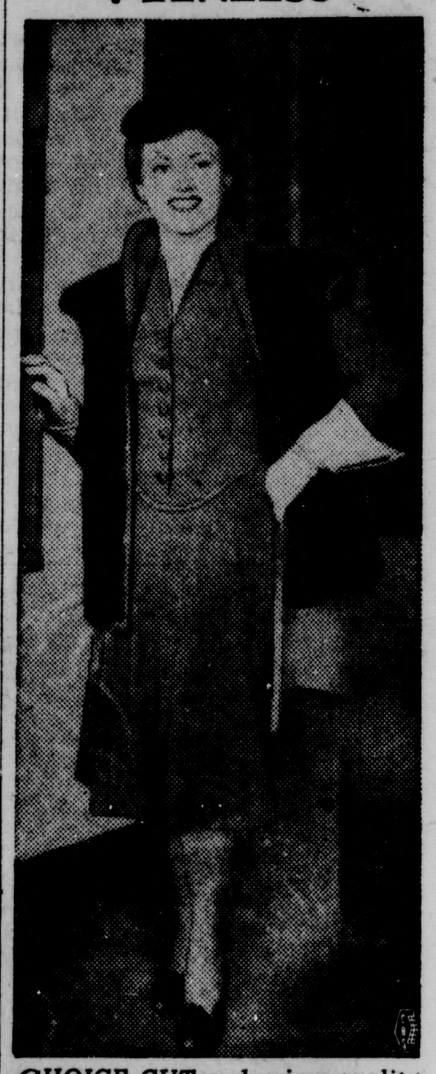
PEERLESS



CHOICE CUT and prime quality distinguish the casserole brown ensemble worn by CBS actress Noel ("American School of the Air") Mills. The dress of Meyer wool features a new hip bone waistline which repeats the circular dip in the back. Worn with the popularly revived stole of satin lapin, lined with matching wool, and a little fur hat twisted into rabbit ears and garnished with ostrich feathers, this original costume from Zoe de Salle's New York salon is a go-everywhereable favorite.

RESOURCEFUL

A NEAT DESIGN of sparkling black bugle beads on turquoise wool turns a simple suit into an outstanding costume. From sundown through late hours Ann ("Easy Aces") Thomas is fittingly attired in the softly detailed suit-dress with black accessories. Her ostrich half-hat registers an after-dark brilliance with tiny paillettes scattered through the curled feather. Choose your most complimentary color for the basic restaurant suit, as Ann has done to give subtle highlight to her titian hair and fair complexion with soft blue-green and dramatic black.

Remove More Recap Restrictions

Recapping of tires for commercial vehicles with truck-type camelback was removed from rationing, effective December 1, the San Francisco District Office of Price Administration announces.

According to OPA officials, this action was taken at the request of the Office of the Rubber Director to encourage a more effective use of recapping service, thereby contributing to tire conservation by reducing the demand for replacement tires.

Removal of rationing restrictions on truck recapping service not only aids in preserving tires now on commercial motor vehicles, but lightens the work load of local boards.

The use of truck-type camelback will still be restricted by WPB Rubber Order R-1 to tires used on commercial vehicles.

Julia says- Plan Your War-Time Marketing

THESE DAYS, when some of our favorite foods aren't so easy to get, each of us must become a "Kitchen General" in fact as well as in theory. In wartime, we at home have to consider our available supplies and plan to use them to best advantage.

What's the first thing a general does before mapping his plan of military action? He looks the situation over, of course, and sees what the problems are —and then figures what to do about them. We, as Kitchen Generals, must do the same.

Just about the biggest problem we Kitchen Generals have to face, these wartime days, is how to keep our families strong and well-fed by using the foods that are available. And here are some plans—for buying, keeping, and using foods—that will go a long way toward solving that problem:

1. Plan your meals for a week ahead, with alternate choices so you can use second-choice if first-choice isn't available.
2. Try new foods when the usual foods are scarce.
3. Buy fresh produce before spending ration stamps on canned foods.
4. Buy only enough perishable foods to last out the week.
5. Cover fresh meat loosely before placing in refrigerator (ground meat must be kept very cool, and cooked soon).
6. Store every item of food where it will keep best until used.
7. Let your family eat some fruits and vegetables raw; cook others without removing their skins, jackets or natural covering.
8. In cooking vegetables, use the minimum amount of water and don't over-cook.
9. Use vegetable cooking water right with the vegetable, or in a soup, salad, or gravy.
10. Don't waste scraps: use bread crumbs in stuffing, meat bones and remnants for soup stock, excess vegetables in pies or hash.
11. Serve only as much on each plate as will be eaten.

Those are some of the plans we Kitchen Generals can follow in our campaign to keep the home front strong and healthy.

That's a job of first importance for each of us these days. In the kind of war we are fighting—and winning!—everyone must be able to do his best.

And it helps if we all keep in mind, day after day, the true statement: Food Fights for Freedom!

Let's do our part!

Dorothy Crawford Here, December 12

Dorothy Crawford, distinguished San Franciscan, comes here with her "one woman theatre," for a single performance on Sunday afternoon, December 12, at the Curran theatre. She appears under the management of the San Francisco Opera association in a series of her character sketches.

Miss Crawford came to San Francisco as a small child, and received her early schooling here. She showed unusual writing ability in musical composition and studied later on in New York. After an extensive musical education, she was engaged by an experimental acting group under the direction of the noted Maurice Brown, to direct their music. It was while she was working with this group that she discovered her dramatic ability.

After this, her ultimate career began to take shape and her writing, her music and her acting converged into a unique one-woman entertainment.

Miss Crawford made her debut in San Francisco playing ten widely different characters and the critics were unanimous in their praise.

Tickets for Miss Crawford's appearance at the Curran theatre are now on sale at the Opera box office, Sherman, Clay and company, EXbrook 8585.

PUT KITCHEN FATS TO WORK

With fats and oils rationed, America's housewives have a valuable source of cooking fats in meat drippings, fat trimmings from uncooked meat, cured pork rinds, and fat skimmings from soups and stews. They can be saved and used for baking, frying, and seasoning.

HOW TO RENDER FAT

1. Trim excess fat from all uncooked meat and keep in refrigerator until ready to render.
2. Chop fine or grind.
3. Render in double boiler.
4. Strain through cloth.
5. Cool to room temperature.
6. Cover tightly and store in refrigerator. (May be mixed with other rendered fat or drippings which have been strained.)
7. Use for baking, frying, and seasoning.

Use of these fats is vital to the government's fat conservation program. If all cannot be used in the kitchen, the surplus and waste fat should be sold to a retail meat dealer as fats are a valuable source of glycerin used to manufacture ammunition. One pound furnishes enough glycerin to fire four 37-millimeter anti-aircraft shells.

Kitchen fat can be valuable in the war effort. Save it! Use it!

TYPICAL RECIPES USING SALVAGED KITCHEN FATS

PIE CRUST

2 cups flour
½ cup dripping or rendered fat
½ teaspoon salt
3 to 6 tablespoons cold water

Sift flour, measure, add salt and sift again. Cut in cold fat until particles are about size of peas. Add cold water, little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Chill before rolling. This makes enough pastry for a two-crust 9-inch pie. Roll the dough to about one-eighth inch in thickness.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

3 cups flour
4½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 to 6 tablespoons rendered fat or drippings
1 cup milk

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Cut in cold fat. Add the milk all at one time. Stir with a fork until the dough clings in a ball. Turn on a lightly floured surface and knead gently for one-half minute. Pat or roll one-half inch thick and cut with a small biscuit cutter, dipped in flour. Place on baking sheet and bake in a hot oven (450°F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

JIFFY CAKE

4 tablespoons rendered fat or drippings
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon flavoring

Put all ingredients in a bowl and beat well with a rotary beater. Batter should be light and smooth. Pour into deep layer pan and cover evenly with the following mixture: ½ cup grated sweet chocolate or cocoanut and ½ cup finely chopped nuts. Bake in a slow oven (350°F.) for 35 to 40 minutes.

CRACKLING CORN BREAD

2 cups corn meal
½ cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
1 egg, beaten
2 cups milk
1 cup cracklings

Chop cracklings (the crisp brown pieces left after fat is rendered) or put through food grinder. Sift together dry ingredients, add milk to which beaten egg has been added, and mix well. Stir in cracklings. Pour mixture into greased pan and bake in hot oven (425°F.) 30 to 40 minutes, or until well browned.

GINGER COOKIES

5 cups flour
1 tablespoon soda
1 tablespoon ginger
1 cup rendered fat or drippings
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vinegar
½ cup dark molasses

Sift flour once, measure and sift again with soda, salt and ginger. Cream fat, add sugar and continue creaming. Add beaten eggs, vinegar and molasses. Add dry ingredients and mix. Roll in balls the size of a walnut. Place on a cookie sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven (400°F.) for twelve to fifteen minutes. Yield: 5 dozen.

REP. "JACK" ANDERSON ATTENDS CONFERENCE

When the American people really get the inside story on this war, there will be less of the smug and over-confident attitude now so prevalent, according to Congressman John Z. Anderson, this district's representative in Washington, following an "off the record" conference with the nation's military leaders. The congressman revealed "as much as I can" about the conference in a report from the national capital, this week.

The conference was held by certain members of Congress with military leaders including the Secretary of War, General Marshall, chief of staff; the head of the Army Intelligence, and high ranking officers from virtually every Army unit. In addition the Congressmen listened with profound interest to the stories of men in the ranks, who helped with the invasion of Sicily.

"This conference," Congressman Anderson said, "was the most enlightening thing we have had since the war began, and what we learned was amazing. I only wish the people of our country could have been present. Naturally there isn't much I can reveal.

"However, I can say we have every reason to be confident of the final outcome, but we must not let over-confidence creep into our thinking. There has been too much of this sort of thing lately, and the military men bluntly informed us it is holding up the war effort. I sincerely trust that these smug, over-confident citizens will wake up and realize that such an attitude is retarding victory, and costing thousands of American lives.

"I'll be more certain about how long this war will last, after getting the public reaction when the official communiques, combined with press and radio services really give the public the facts. I believe the public should have them now, perhaps they might bring about a much-needed awakening. One thing is certain—we've got to read beyond the headlines to get the true story. Those who read only the headlines are getting a distorted idea of the overall picture.

"Our conference lasted four hours, with General Marshall (what a soldier) doing much of the talking. The heart-rending story came from the boys who participated in the attack on Sicily. These kids have sure got what it takes. I wonder, are we going to back them up here at home, or let them down? Then it's time we really got going."

ADD OR SUBTRACT accessories to multiply the costumes hidden in a basic tailored suit. For casual or sportswear pick up either of the colors in a striped tweed, as CBS singer Anita ("Jack Carson Show") Ellis does with sweater and matching calot. Or choose a third color for hat and blouse to give an effect as pleasing as a harmonious musical chord. There's deft tailoring strategy in the slenderizing stripes, wide lapels and low closing.

WHAT? NO LATHER?

You may have worked yourself into a lather about many things, but from now on you'll have difficulty getting lathered with—if not about—soap.

What? No soap? Oh, you'll have soap all right, but the lather won't be the same—it's being rationed! If milady wants the creamy suds that used to bubble on her face when she wooed that teen-age complexion, she will have to exercise a lot more muscle—and patience.

You see, it is this way. With Tojo and company having a corner on the palm and coconut oil supplies that used to come from the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, we are definitely short on "sudsy" ingredients. So don't expect your facial soap to "give out" in a big way. It just hasn't got it to give.

"War" soap will keep you just as clean, however. It looks the same, smells as fragrantly, tastes as unpleasantly, and will skid out of your reach in the bathroom just as efficiently as ever. Who could ask for more?
